Building Trust in an Accelerating World

Subscribe to #ESGT Impact

Colleagues and friends,

Isn't it all about building trust at the end of the day? Trust by stakeholders in what leaders do - be they business, governmental, social or otherwise? As the world attempts to muddle through to the other side of this global pandemic "annus horribilis", trying to dodge the simultaneous bullets of daunting health and climate challenges, deep socio-economic disparity at home and abroad, as well as an unprecedented onslaught of cyber insecurity, I'd like to say: it takes a global village so we can all do our part!

In this newsletter you will find:

- On April 2, I had the privilege to be part of a Cyber Future Foundation / World Health Organization World Healthcare Cybersecurity Roundtable featuring the CISO of WHO. Check the full video here.
- On March 18th, I joined amazing colleagues at the Horasis Extraordinary Meeting on the United States of America - Rebuilding Trust to talk about "Building Trust in Cyberspace" - check the video out here.

- And just this week, I joined my great friend, Dante A. Disparte, to be among the first few FutureTense Podcasts produced by the amazing Ana Rold and her team at Diplomatic Courier, a global affairs media network you should know about.
- You can find Dante's FutureTense Podcast on "Futureproofing the World with Digital Commons" here and mine on "From Gloom to Boom: Transforming Risk into Resilience" here.
- Finally, as many of you know, the theatre and social justice nonprofit Epic Theatre Ensemble is celebrating its 20th anniversary on April 27 online and you can still buy $20 tickets here. Epic has helped 1000s of underserved high school students in the NYC metropolitan area by teaching theatre and so much more yielding amazing results as you can read more about here.

Until the next time, stay healthy, stay well, stay connected and do all you can to create more trust!

All the best,

Andrea

The image shows a Zoom meeting title slide. At the top, it says "Flavio Aggio" in large white text on a dark blue background. Below that, it says "Chief Information Security Officer (CISO)" and "World Health Organization (WHO)" in white text. In the bottom left, it reads "CFF/WHO World Healthcare Cybersecurity Roundtable", "COVID-19 Cybersecurity attacks", and "2 April 2021". In the bottom right, there is the World Health Organization logo. A small video thumbnail of Flavio Aggio is in the top right corner.
